Our Success Story

Safeguarding schools: Protecting our future

Schools are held accountable for safeguarding our children and protecting them from harm. When St Mary's & St John's put their trust in Mercury to help them meet their obligations, Mercury passed the test with flying colours.

With a reputation for their expertise in working with schools to ensure protection of school property, staff and pupils, Mercury Security was approached by St Mary's and St John's CE School to help them meet their safeguarding requirements. Whilst safeguarding is a primary concern, Mercury's solution needed to have a wide array of applications throughout the school.

Access control installations were needed to allow adult only access in certain areas but also to prevent pupils from leaving buildings without school knowledge. The school also required that the systems were seamlessly integrated so that no health and safety issues arose. To guarantee that teaching time was unaffected by any works, Mercury engineers came out of school hours to install the necessary systems.

Mercury designed and installed:

- Access control systems to secure adult only or segregated areas
- CCTV to protect the school perimeter
- Internal CCTV in public areas to protect both pupils and staff
- Intruder and fire alarms
- Maintenance to ensure complete protection at all times
